

A high-speed photograph of a water splash, showing a large, circular droplet in the center with a bright white core, surrounded by smaller droplets and a swirling motion. The entire scene is set against a solid blue background. The text "The Importance of Water" is centered over the splash in a black, sans-serif font.

The Importance of Water

Why is water important?

- Did you know that the Earth's water supply is limited and contaminated by general waste that gets in the water? We only have 1% water that is pure to drink.

Why focus on water?

- As a linked project with Sutton and East Surrey Water and Global Action Plan we were chosen to undertake a project to change peoples opinions and views on the issue of water waste.

- We first asked people to complete a survey on their water behaviour
  - We then looked at the three worst behaviours and picked one to change via a campaign

Our Project

We created a website to convince people to use a bucket and a sponge instead of a hose.

What we did

- Launched our website to show people how to save water and why its important

What we found out?

- That through advice and assemblies we were able to encourage and get people to commit to saving water.
